Portrait Diplomatisches Magazin

////////////////////////////////////

Portrait:

„Diplomatische Magazin“ was first published in 1947. It currently provides information on the complete spectrum of diplomatic and personnel activities in the capital Berlin and the consulates spread throughout the Federal Republic of Germany. Articles from well respected journalists are published on an array of subjects concerning international politics and business. Diplomatische Magazine s reliable and respected reporting on diplomacy, politics, business and culture is of the highest standard, and this is reflected in the quality of journalism that is so appreciated by its 50,000 readers from the international community. Diplomatische Magazine is published in both German and English.
