Portrait Porzellanmanufaktur FÜRSTENBERG

////////////////////////////////////

Portrait:

For 260 years, the Porzellanmanufaktur FÜRSTENBERG has been among the top addresses in Europe for porcelain manufacturing. Founded in Fürstenberg an der Weser in 1747 by Duke Carl I of Brunswick, the House of FÜRSTENBERG has always been successful in uniting tradition and the future in a very artistic manner. Today, the Porzellanmanufaktur FÜRSTENBERG has a global reputation as an expert in the porcelain industry for historical and modern shapes and patterns.

For the porcelain makers from Fürstenberg, "tradition" does not mean remaining limited to a purely historical language of shapes and patterns, although today the company is the only porcelain manufacturer in Germany to carry at least one complete coffee and table service from every style epoch in its collection, from Rococo to Jugendstil all the way to the new tableware collections „Victoria Luise" or the luxury design objects of SIEGER by FÜRSTENBERG. On the contrary, for the House of FÜRSTENBERG, "tradition" means persisting in respect to continuity and the heavy demands put on quality in the past and, at the same time, always remaining contemporary and innovative in terms of design and business operations.

From the materials kaolin, quartz and feldspar, the Porzellanmanufaktur FÜRSTENBERG creates exclusive quality products of the highest standards. The Porzellanmanufaktur FÜRSTENBERG with its seal – the famous "F" – stands for this excellence.
